In their own words:

“Sometimes you don't want to say to your family how you feel, but you can always tell Good Morning. I can depend on that phone call every day and feel safer knowing that someone is always there.” Ella, 85

“It makes you live your life because you are never really on your own. They make me feel like a person – not an old woman. I can discuss things like politics and keep in touch with the world – you just keep me going!” Charlotte, 94

“I can depend on Good Morning. It gives me confidence to live alone knowing that if I desperately needed help, you are there.” Mairi, 84

“I'm not too well in the morning but when the phone rings and they say 'hello', it is a better tonic right away than all the tablets I swallow.” Ann, 86

“I live my life differently because of it. It gives me some prompting to get on with life.” Janet, 64

“We can have a laugh, I can share a problem, ask advice and they will help if they can. If I worry about something or don't feel too well I have someone who'll listen. That makes a big difference.” Margaret, 82

“The team have taken the time to get to know me and they're interested in what's happening in my life. As they actually ask me my opinion and seek my views I feel listened to, and also valued.” Catherine, 81

“My call boosts me up and makes me want to get ready and go out even if it's just a wee walk round the shops. I've made a lot of new friends to bletcher to. And it's a great feeling to go to bed and know if I took ill during the night you are always there to help – it's security.” Nancy, 76

“After the call I feel good and can face the world and all its problems, and mine too. Clare, 65

“I really like to be independent and knowing Good Morning are there should I need them makes life easy” - Sophia, 97

“You need to talk to keep your marbles.” Bill, 89
